CODE OF CONDUCT FOR EMPLOYEES

Introduction

Lucid Colloids Limited (“Company”) is firmly committed to legal and regulatory compliance and ethical conduct. The Company is also committed to create a workplace that is motivational and free from harassment or discrimination.

This Employees’ Code of Conduct (“Code”) articulates the standards that each employee must adhere to in the course of duties.

Objectives

The objectives of this Code are to re-emphasize the Company’s commitments:

- Co-workers and others with whom you interact must be treated with respect, courtesy, honesty and fairness.
- Diversity of faith and religion must be respected.
- Any form of discrimination must be eschewed irrespective of gender or creed or colour or physical or other diversities.
- Co-operation and harmony at all levels must be fostered.
- Personnel will be rewarded for merit and diligence.

Applicability

- This Code applies to all employees of the Company wherever located and irrespective of seniority. For the purposes of this Code “Employee” means all individuals employed by the Company whether full-time or part-time or seasonal and shall include apprentices, trainees and secondees.
- All contractors engaged by the Company are required to ensure that their personnel are made aware of the Code and comply therewith in all their dealings with the Company and its vendors, suppliers and customers as also their respective personnel.

Compliance

- Employees must act in compliance with law.
- If there be any reasonable doubt Employees must seek guidance from the reporting head who will, if necessary, escalate to higher levels.

- While good order and discipline requires that instructions from superiors must be diligently followed in the unlikely event that there is a genuine doubt as to the propriety of instructions, matters must be timely escalated to appropriate levels and guidance sought.

Behaviour

- Each Employee must avoid situations in which his or her financial or other personal interests or dealings are, or may be, in conflict with the interests of the Company. Accordingly, the Company expects its Employees to act in the Company's interest at all times.
- Employees must not offer, give or receive any form of inducement or bribe. Festive complimentary and customary hospitality is permitted but neither should be excessive nor be such as to place the recipient under any obligation.

Confidentiality

- Information received by Employees in the course of their employment about the Company, its clients, vendors and suppliers and competitors (actual or potential) must be maintained confidential. Such information must be used only in good faith discharge of duties and under no circumstances should be used for personal gain or for any third party's benefit. Such information may be shared within the organization on a need-to-know basis.
- Please be aware that in the course of its business the Company may receive information from third parties subject to confidentiality obligations. Unauthorized access to or dissemination of such information may involve serious risks for the Company. Any infraction will be severely dealt with.
- Personal information of Employees is confidential. Such information must be accessed and used only for proper Company requirements. If you inadvertently come across such information, you must immediately report to your line superior and the head of the concerned section / department.
- Company's communication facilities and infrastructure (including emails and internet and laptops, mobiles, and other storage devices) are to use only for bona fide requirements of the Company. Personal use of the Company's communications facilities and infrastructure is prohibited except in rare emergency situations. Even in such situations pre-clearance from line superior should be obtained. If emergent circumstances do not permit pre-clearance such usage must be immediately reported to the line superior.
- Note that the Company may monitor and record your communications.
